Council tax set for 8% rise to fund social care

Marines concert boost to charity

A PACKED crowd at The Anvil annual charity concert on Sunday. The concert raised £13,000 for various charities, while the rotary club at Basingstoke Deane Rotary Club's also took the opportunity to hand over £14,000 to Ark Cancer Centre Charity towards its £5million fund-raising appeal.

5% increase this year, 3% in 2018 to meet £140m gap

By Christian Wilson

COUNCIL tax is set to be increased five per cent by Hampshire County Council from April and a further three per cent 12 months later to help deal with adult social care funding pressures.

But with a £140million savings gap needing to be filled by April 2019 to balance the budget, the authority has admitted that the new five per cent increase would still not be enough to deal with expected increases in demand for social care.

Last year's four per cent rise represented the first time in five years that Hampshire had hiked council tax, with the latest change set to take yearly costs up to £1,133.10 for Band D households.

But ahead of next Friday's cabinet meeting, leader Roy Perry revealed that a further three per cent rise in tax was also planned for 2018/19 as part of the council's two-year financial planning strategy, in order to answer to Government demand.

"For roughly an extra £1 per week, the average Hampshire household at Band D would continue to receive some of the best public services in the country," said Cllr Perry.

"In my view, this is down to the authority's careful stewardship of public resources over many years, without which we could have been in

Life-saving PCSO gets chief's commendation

By Adam Flinn

A POLICE community support officer who saved the life of a woman who was threatening to kill herself in Whitchurch has been honoured for her actions.

PCSO Melody Kness was given a commendation at the Chief Constable Awards after calming the woman down and stopping her from trying to take her own life.

On May 21 last year following a call to police regarding a vulnerable 24-year-old woman in Whitchurch, PCSO Kness went out to try and find her.

She found the woman in a distressed state, who then started to run towards the A34 and a bridge over the railway line.

Without hesitation PCSO Kness gave chase and had to physically restrain her for nearly eight minutes from attempting to jump off the bridge.

In that time PCSO Kness was able to calm the woman down sufficiently enough to discover she had taken an overdose, before colleagues arrived.

PCSO Kness was one of a number of police officers, staff and members of the public who were honoured at a special ceremony by chief constable Olivia Pinkney.

Ch Con Pinkney said: "It fills me with great pride to present these awards to my officers, staff, and those members of the public who have all gone above and beyond for the benefit of others.

"It is my honour to recognise these acts of professionalism, courage and dedication which have saved lives, protected our homes and supported those who are most in need.

"It is encouraging to know that there are so many people within our force and within our communities who are committed to making Hampshire a better place to live and work."

Suspected rogue trader sought after cash demand to elderly man

POLICE have released an efit of a man they are looking for after a suspected rogue trader offence was reported in Basingstoke.

At around 10am last Tuesday, a man called on an 81-year-old man at his home in Shipton Way.

The suspect asked the man to pay £2,300 for VAT due on roofing and fencing work that was carried out two years earlier.

The victim didn't hand over any money, and the suspect left.

The previous work had cost £9,000 and was of poor quality, but was not reported to police at the time.

Detective Constable Dan Leese, of Basingstoke CID, said: "I am keen to speak to anyone who recognises the man from this efit image, or anyone who has any information about what happened."

He is described as white, with short, shaved hair and an unshaven face.

Police have also advised residents to check the credentials of unknown callers, not to employ cold-calling doorstep traders, and to report any suspicious callers or activity to them immediately.

Anyone with information is asked to contact the police non-emergency number 101, or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Welcome figures

BASINGSTOKE AND DEANE: Basingstoke MP Maria Miller has welcomed the latest unemployment figures, which are at their lowest level nationally for more than a decade.

In Basingstoke, the number of people claiming out of work benefits has dropped by 1,045 since 2010, a reduction of 62 per cent.

Mrs Miller said: "We start the new year with another encouraging set of figures, which show the strength of our economy as we step up to the challenges of 2017."

Better gritting

HAMPSHIRE: A new scheme using weather sensors to pinpoint more accurately when and where roads needs gritting is being trialled in Hampshire.

The sensors use infrared to gauge the road surface temperature and sends the data back, so highways teams can use the information to more precisely work out which areas need gritting.

Rob Humby, Hampshire County Council's executive member for transport, said: "Deciding when to send out the salting lorries is crucial to make sure the roads are treated at the right times while not wasting any salt."

"We're always looking at how technology and innovation can help us look after Hampshire's road network as efficiently and effectively as possible."

Trump petition

BASINGSTOKE: More than 2,000 people in Basingstoke have signed the petition calling for US President Donald Trump to be prevented from making a state visit to the UK.

The petition was set up last week, and as the Observer went to press was closing in on two million signatures nationally.

Rotarians present £14k cheque to boost charity

By Adam Flinn

BASINGSTOKE Deane Rotarians have made another sizeable donation to the Ark Cancer Centre Charity after handing over £14,000 at the weekend.

The cheque was presented to the charity at the annual Basingstoke Deane Rotary Club

Charity Concert in front of an enthusiastic sell-out audience at The Anvil.

It comes as part of Ark Cancer Centre Charity's £5million fundraising appeal towards a new cancer treatment centre in North Hampshire.

Handing over the cheque, rotary club president Alan Gibson said: "This £14,000 cheque represents the fundraising that we have done so far during my president's year."

"Additional money will be raised for the charity from the concert, and also the rotary club's international boxing charity night on March 10."

Charity trustee Merv Rees added: "The support from the public, and groups like the rotarians, has been fantastic."

"So far £1.3m has been raised and that is a testament to how important the cancer treatment centre project is."

Sunday's concert raised more than £13,000 for various good causes including Ark Cancer Centre Charity, including Help for Heroes and The Royal Marines Charity.

The concert featured VIP guests in the form of the Chelsea Pensioners and Basingstoke and Deane's mayor Jane Frankum, and a performance from The Band of Her Majesty's Royal Marines.

Pensions strike

BASINGSTOKE AND DEANE: Workers at the Atomic Weapons Establishment (AWE) have staged a second 48-hour strike over changes to pensions.

Hundreds of workers took part in the industrial action on Monday and Tuesday as the controversial changes to the pensions were due to be implemented this week.

They had previously staged a 48-hour strike earlier in January, as well as two 24-hour strikes before that.

Country group

HAMPSHIRE: Two new members are being sought for a group which advises on ways to improve access to Hampshire's countryside.

The Hampshire Countryside Access Forum (HCAF) needs members to represent the interests of off-road cyclists and people with disabilities.

Andrew Gibson, Hampshire County Council's executive member for the countryside, said: "The advice given by HCAF is greatly valued because it is well-considered and balanced, reflecting the range of interests represented across the organisations."

Council tax 'still well below inflation'

• From front page

a very different position now.

"Plus, council tax in Hampshire remains well below the rate of inflation of the last five years."

The double increase in tax proposed on all councils to bump up council tax by six per cent to cope with adult social care pressures over the next three years.

Hampshire is instead due to introduce a three per cent rise in both 2017/18 and 2018/19 to specifically address the service however, while also bringing in a two per cent general increase for this year.

Cllr Perry said: "In Hampshire, we are proposing to accept the Government's invitation, but bring forward the six per cent increase over a two-year period instead."

"This would enable us to prudently use the money upfront, on a one-off basis, and help offset the major pressures we know are coming our way, especially in adult social care."

Hampshire is on target to reach its £98m savings target by April, although the latest round of cuts would also look to help the council reach its planned £43.1m savings target for adult social care by next year.

The latest cuts to the service saw a 16 per cent increase in council-run nursing home fees introduced, while it was agreed in October to start charging some people to receive care in their own homes, in a bid to save £1.4m.

£5 extra for police

A £5 INCREASE in the amount residents pay to fund Hampshire's police service has been confirmed.

Hampshire's police and crime commissioner (PCC) recommended the introduction of the increase following the public's response to a consultation on the issue.

A total of 2,800 residents completed the survey last month, with 79 per cent of respondents insisting that they would be willing to fund the £5 council tax increase.

The three per cent increase will generate an extra £3.3million for Hampshire Constabulary – protecting current national funding, and allowing current levels of neighbourhood policing to be maintained in the process.

PCC Michael Lane predicted however that, even with the council tax hike, there would still be a funding shortfall of £23m a year at Hampshire police by 2021.

He said: "The precept decision for 2017/18 needs to take into account both the immediate and medium term resourcing requirements that enable Hampshire to be safer now and in the future."

"A £5 increase will put us in a stronger position to meet the immediate risks, and continue to respond to the ever increasing complexity of crime."

"However, even with this, and future projected increases in council tax, it is estimated that if national government funding for policing continues to be worked out in a way that is unfair, we will be facing a funding shortfall of £23m a year by 2021."

Hockey cash helps give nurses tattoo training

By Christian Wilson

WOMEN who have undergone breast reconstruction surgery at Basingstoke hospital are set to benefit from the generosity of the town's sporting fans.

A total of £4,500 has been donated to the hospital's breast unit to train nurses to be able to use tattoo equipment to draw permanent replacement nipples for women.

The valuable funds were raised through a Hockey Hugs for Cancer ice hockey match between Basingstoke Bison and Basingstoke Buffalo, which featured several stars from the past and present.

Last April's showpiece packed out the Basingstoke Arena, and helped raise more than £14,000 in total, with organisers Sandra Leary and husband Bob choosing to give something back to the unit that helped them.

Sandra has received treatment for breast cancer at the hospital on two separate occasions, and thanked the nurses at the unit for helping her through her "darkest hour".

She said: "I hope that training nurses to do these tattoos can make a real difference to women going through breast cancer. I have been involved in ice hockey for years, and the whole thing just mushroomed. "People came from all over the country, and more people who couldn't come donated money. It was just an amazing night."

The unit has also benefitted with a new television for the waiting area, business card for the nurses, lymphodema equipment, and plain bags that allow patients to carry their information discreetly.

Clinical matron for breast service, Sandy Lyford, was quick to thank Sandra, Bob, and co for their help.

She said: "Our patients will really benefit from this."

"Not everybody feels comfortable going to a tattoo parlour, and they appreciate the option to get a tattoo done discreetly and in the unit by one of our nurses."

"We are finding that there is a growing demand for this treatment, which is currently carried out by doctors, and we have a long waiting list."

"Giving nurses the training they need to draw the tattoos will ensure that patients receive treatment sooner."

The rest of the cash from the Hockey Hugs for Cancer match was also split between Basingstoke hospital's oncology department, and charity Chemogiftbags.

Council funds to expand hall

A POPLEY community hall is set to be transformed by a £280,000 grant from the borough council.

Bermuda Hall, in Bermuda Close, will be reconfigured to create an extra room and expand the existing hall to deal with increasing demand.

The limited amount of space available has resulted in Bermuda Community Association, which runs the hall, from having to turn people away.

But the works to the converted doctor's surgery will now see the capacity of the building increased by a third, after the funds were provided by the council's local infrastructure fund.

Cabinet member for finance, service delivery, and improvement, Robert Tate, said: "This funding will make a very real difference to residents of Popley East, and I look forward to the works being completed."

"The local infrastructure fund is an initiative which exists to support local community facilities, and the council is always keen to hear from local people who wish to make a real difference by improving their communities."

"Whether it's upgrading the village hall, improving a sports pitch or making local play parks safer and more enjoyable, we may be able to support local projects with a grant from the local infrastructure fund."

Cross-party support given to petition to save school

By Christian Wilson

THE Conservative candidate for the vacant Winklebury seat on the borough council has signed a petition created by his Labour counterpart to save the ward's secondary school from closing.

Parents of students at Fort Hill Community School (FHCS) have been told that pupils could soon be moved across town to Cranbourne Business and Enterprise College (CBEC).

Concerns were raised by governors of the federation that runs both schools that an amalgamation may be necessary to deal with a drop in the number of youngsters choosing either as their preferred option.

This suggestion has led to an outcry from worried residents, with Labour's representative for the vacant Winklebury seat, Angie Freeman, starting a petition to stop FHCS from closing.

Tory candidate Chris Hendon has added his name to those voicing their displeasure at the possible merger – insisting he felt it's "vital that every voice and viewpoint in Winklebury is fairly represented".

He added: "I genuinely feel it is my duty to support and fight for the very best solution to this issue, whatever the findings of the consultation may be."

"I would like to suggest asking all candidates standing in the by-election to take the petition relating to the Fort Hill potential closure with them, door to door, to ensure the maximum response."

"Rest assured that I am fighting to ensure that all the parents and students of Fort Hill, and indeed the wider community as a whole, are provided with the best outcome, and that any potential negative impact is minimised."

The Winklebury seat became available following Tory councillor Joseph Smith's resignation last month, with a by-election due to take place for the position on February 21.

A county council public consultation asking whether FHCS and CBEC should be merged will run until March 2, with Basingstoke MP Maria Miller insisting that the move could be a "sensible way forward".

Only 39 pupils have submitted an application for this September at FHCS out of the 145 places available in Year 7, while CBEC has also only been selected as a first preference by 47 youngsters so far.

• Fort Hill Community School, and inset, Conservative candidate Chris Hendon has signed the petition

But Liberal Democrat candidate for the Winklebury by-election, Zoe-Marie Rogers, insisted that, despite this drop, residents wanted "good quality education on their doorsteps".

She added: "The interests of the children need to come before the convenience of the county council."

A secondary school is planned to eventually be built as part of the 3,400-home future development of Manydown to the west of Winklebury.

But with a planning application not yet submitted for the project, the leader of Basingstoke's Liberal Democrat group has insisted that it is the "wrong time" to be considering merging the two schools.

Cllr Gavin James said: "Residents are understandably confused that the county council is planning to shut this secondary school now, while saying they will build one the other side of Roman Road in the future."

"Surely they should think it is better to invest in Fort Hill school, and review provision when Manydown has progressed?"

The county council's executive member for education, Peter Edgar, has insisted that "action must be taken" to deal with the fall in pupil numbers, although Basingstoke's Labour group leader feels there is "no need" to close FHCS.

Cllr Paul Harvey said: "The community have already lost their local GP provision, and this is yet another kick in the teeth to the local community."

"With Manydown coming, and the new secondary school proposed not arriving for years, Fort Hill would take the increased pupils numbers, and the county already acknowledge that student numbers will increase in the next few years."

Anyone wishing to sign the petition can do so at: tinyurl.com/zb7lcvj.

A HOOK farming business has been prosecuted and banned from trading after some of its food was deemed "unfit for human consumption".

Farm Catering Ltd, in Heckfield, committed eight food hygiene offences, including selling chicken pieces that contained fly eggs in them, to members of the public.

The business, which traded at Holdshott Farm Shop, in Reading Road, was also found to have sold meat pies that were kept 4.5C above legal refrigeration requirements, and were therefore considered a high risk to consumers.

Each of the recorded incidents took place between April 7, 2015 and March 15 last year, with business director Kathleen David and manager Roger David being fined £4,000 per hygiene offence as a result.

The duo were also required to pay £5,309 in court costs, and a £100 victim surcharge - taking the total fine up to £37,409, while they were banned from operating a food business with immediate effect.

Hart District Council's environmental health department is responsible for the regulation of food safety within Hook, and became involved in the investigation following complaints from members of the public, and poor inspection results.

Cabinet member for regulatory services, John Kennett, said of the prosecution: "The health of residents is our first priority, and when businesses repeatedly ignore normal standards of hygiene, our environmental health will take action to protect the public."

"Hundreds of businesses in Hart maintain safe standards, and there was no reason why Farm Catering Ltd could not do the same."

Head of regulatory services at the council, Nick Steevens, added: "We have continually provided support and guidance to Farm Catering Ltd to try and assist them to comply with the food hygiene regulations."

"Despite our continued efforts to support this business, food safety inspections always revealed serious breaches of food hygiene legislation and failings which put customers at risk."

"The standards of food hygiene at this premises are some of the worst that my officers have experienced."

Bangers and cash raised for charity

A PUB'S sausage campaign has ensured people across the borough won't go hungry.

The Sun Inn chose to donate half of the profits raised from its sale of sausage dishes throughout November to Basingstoke Foodbank.

And after seeing their black pudding, toad in the hole and Greenford Farm pork sausage dishes go down a storm with their customers, The Sun Inn has now presented the charity with a cheque for £900.

Chair of the trustees at Basingstoke Foodbank, Phil Thomas, said: "This is another example of the amazing generosity of the people and businesses of Basingstoke towards the Foodbank.

"Donations like this enable the Foodbank to provide food to over 3,500 people in crisis in the town every year."

"The management and customers at The Sun have helped make that possible."

Landlord at The Sun Inn, Gordon Stott, said: "We're passionate about seasonal and local produce, and we're so pleased our diners embraced the idea, and with the total amount raised."

Basing View's 'destination' business hub

BASINGSTOKE microbusinesses are to be given a helping hand to get off the ground through the redevelopment of a Basing View office complex.

Belvedere House is due to be transformed by developers into a "destination" business hub by introducing 20,000sq ft of extra co-working space.

The offices are already home to a variety of businesses, although workspace provider BizSpace, who have purchased the building, hope the alterations will help make the town a "key business destination".

Commercial director Emma Long said: "By adding high quality space, we are creating a 'go-to' hub, to help entrepreneurs and small business owners of Basingstoke to network, do business together and generally have a great time while running their companies."

"We have had a huge number of enquiries already, and have a waiting list for our serviced office offering. We expect this site to become a hotbed for fresh business talent."

The changes to Belvedere House will include office space and meeting rooms to allow businesses of any size the opportunity to access flexible workspace, by hiring them for the day or by the hour.

Muddy army to lead fight against cancer

By Christian Wilson

A CALL has gone out to women of all ages, shapes, and sizes across Basingstoke to fight dirty against cancer.

An army of thousands of women united last year to take part in three endurance challenges as part of Cancer Research UK's Race for Life.

Ladies dressed up in pink and ran, walked, or skipped 5k or 10k around the track at Down Grange Sports Complex to show solidarity with those fighting cancer, and to show defiance in the name of those that lost their battle.

The highlight of last year's Race for Life undoubtedly came through the town's first Pretty Muddy challenge, which saw teams help each other get around a mud-splattered obstacle course.

And with both the 5k and 10k set to return to Down Grange on June 10, and the dirtier alternative following the day after, Cancer Research UK is calling on the public to make this year's fundraiser even bigger than before.

Basingstoke event manager Fiona Miller said: "Signing up to take part in Race for Life is

• Thousands of people took place in last year's Race for Life
Pretty Muddy is due to return to Down Grange (Pictures by Race for Life)

a great way for women to set themselves a new and exciting challenge for 2017.

"Every step women take will help to bring forward the day when all cancers are cured."

"Together, we can stop this devastating disease in its tracks."

Around 130 people across the south east are diagnosed with a form of cancer every day, although research over the years has resulted in the survival rate doubling since the 1970s.

But with the charity relying on the public's generosity to help wipe out the disease altogether, Fiona has pleaded with the Basingstoke public to help out by setting themselves a target to help "banish the winter blues" and beat last year's total of £187,706.

She added: "By taking part in Race for Life, women can make a real difference in the fight against cancer."

"We're delighted to be able to bring Pretty Muddy back to Basingstoke, as it's a fantastic addition to our Race for Life family of events."

"It has all the fun and camaraderie of our much loved 5k and 10k events, but with added mud, thrills and spills."

To sign up for the Race for Life, visit raceforlife.org.

Extra parking spaces at town's rail station

THE new and improved car park for passengers at Basingstoke station has been unveiled.

An extra 400 car parking spaces have been provided for the station by the works, which began last year.

Funding from the Department for Transport has also brought improved security and lighting, as well as extra CCTV cameras, new help points and segregated walkways.

Basingstoke MP Maria Miller cut the ribbon at the unveiling, and said: "This additional parking is good news for Basingstoke commuters and other regular rail passengers."

"It comes at a time when demand for rail services locally continues to grow, particularly with the high levels of house-building in the town.

"The improved facilities for car park users is very welcome, with CCTV cameras and improved lighting bringing added safety and security, which will be especially important for passengers using the car park when it is dark."

Alistair Wright, head of station property for South West Trains, added: "Basingstoke is a major station with over 5.5 million passengers now using the station every year, so it was vital we kept up with demand and expanded the car park."

"Installing improved facilities was also a priority for us as we want to ensure that the car park is as safe and accessible as possible."

Pupils to take centre stage

PUPILS from a Hook independent school will follow the yellow brick road to Basingstoke's Haymarket Theatre for a special one-off performance this evening.

Students from year 7 to year 13 from Sherfield School's drama club will take to the stage to recreate the 1939 classic The Wizard of Oz.

The youngsters will be supported by a select group of musicians, with a professional pianist, drummer, and bassist joining some of the school's own musicians to form an orchestra.

Sherfield pupils have also designed all of the lighting, sound effects, and sets for the show. They will then oversee it themselves when the curtain is raised at 7.30pm.

Having previously put on modern musicals, including Avenue Q, Our House and Little Shop of Horrors, head of drama at Sherfield, Matt Reynolds, said the pupils were keen to do something a little more traditional this time around.

He added: "The production is very much based on the original musical from 1939.

"It's certainly been a challenge, but I'm confident the production will be a huge success. It's a bit of an experiment, but we really want to be getting out there as much as possible into the community."

Two new play areas set to open in Popley

By Christian Wilson

TWO open spaces in Popley are set to be transformed into games and play areas in response to views put forward by residents.

Both Popley Community Park and the green space at Tintern Close will be redeveloped to provide better sport and leisure facilities for the community by July.

A new multi-use games area will be built in the park, and will be split into two fenced playing zones, with the larger one being equipped for a number of different sports.

While this zone will include football goals, basketball hoops and cricket panels for everyone to use, the smaller area will also have mini football goals at either end.

The open space at Tintern Close will be transformed over the coming months into a children's play area, complete with equipment and games suitable for very young children, while it will be surrounded by ornamental shrubs and trees.

Community needs in the redevelopment of the Popley

• The green space at Tintern Close will be turned into a children's play area, and (inset) Cllr Simon Bound play area were initially set out in the Popley East Community Plan, and Marnel and Merton Community Group Action Plan, which have recently been adopted to action by the Popley Neighborhood Partnership.

Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council then followed this up with a consultation to Popley residents in autumn last year, asking how they thought the spaces could best be used.

Cabinet member for communities and community safety, Simon Bound, said: "Popley residents have told us that there is a real desire for improved open space facilities, and we have taken all comments on board when shaping these plans.

"The multi-use games area in the park at Popley will benefit all residents who use it, and I have no doubt that it will be a very well-used facility in years to come.

"The plans for Tintern Close open space are also very exciting.

"The area will be a welcoming environment for all the community to enjoy."

Dodgy calls

BASINGSTOKE AND DEANE: An elderly female Basingstoke and Deane resident received a phone call from a man pretending to be a police inspector from Scotland Yard.

The male then went on to say that he had been contacted by her bank security team saying that someone had tried to withdraw a large amount of money from her account.

The call took place on January 19 and was a scam, although thankfully the victim did not pass any personal details or money over the phone.

Anyone receiving similarly suspicious calls should contact Hampshire police on 101.

Family fun day

BASINGSTOKE: A family fun day is being held to raise money for two wards at Basingstoke and North Hampshire Hospital.

The event is taking place from midday at Basingstoke Irish Centre, Council Road, on Saturday, February 18, with attractions including killer pool, a cake sale and a disco.

A raffle will also be drawn, with prizes including tickets to Birdworld, a spa day at Beechdown, and £30 in Festival Place vouchers.

All proceeds will go to new equipment for wards E3 and E4 at Basingstoke hospital.

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

WIN tickets to see Raffles at the Haymarket!

RUMPUS Theatre Company brings a sparkling whodunit to The Haymarket from Wednesday 15 to Saturday 18 February. Based on the thrilling classics by E W Hornung, Raffles - The Mystery of the Murdered Thief stars Ian Sharrock (Emmerdale, Heartbeat, I'm Alan Partridge).

Harry "Bunny" Manders is convinced that his erstwhile partner in crime, the gentleman cracksman A J Raffles, drowned while escaping a daring theft aboard a transatlantic liner. But a chance reply to a newspaper advertisement reveals an entirely different scenario, and at once Bunny is embroiled again in his old life of burglary, mayhem, adventure and murder!

Bunny is played by the exuberant Ian Sharrock, hugely familiar to audiences from his ten years as Jackie Merrick in Emmerdale and, perhaps most memorably, as Jed Maxwell, Alan Partridge's biggest and most scarily

Home Visits At No Extra Charge

Local Wills & Estate Planners Michael Usher Wills based in Winchester Street Basingstoke are now offering Saturday appointments at clients homes or at their office at no extra charge. The owner Michael Usher comments "we wanted to be completely different from other firms and give customers the choice of seeing us when they wanted to" He goes on to say "we are a small company that is the right size to be totally personal and have the ability to be flexible and accommodate their needs". MU Wills are part of a medium sized business which has offices in Basingstoke and Frimley. When taking instructions to have a Will written it is most important that we fully understand the clients situation and take into account any fears or concerns that the customer may have.

Michael further comments "our advisers are experienced enough to give advice on most situations and are trained to the highest standards, we look after our clients from start to finish". The strength and integrity of the business is based on customer service, professionalism and total satisfaction. They are measured by 2 websites that satisfied clients visit and comment after the advice process has completed. These websites are Trustpilot.com and Checkaprofessional.com. Michael and his staff request that all satisfied customers make comments on their experience of having a Will written as they want all future clients to have total peace of mind.

If you want to discuss your need for a Will then please contact Michael and his team on 01256 63700.

We are open 6 days a week, Saturdays by appointment .

We are open Saturdays

Lasting Power of Attorney

Here at Michael Usher's we understand the importance of being able to look after yourself and to make your own decisions. However sometimes, when we approach the latter years of our lives we may not have the capacity to make sound decisions. We understand it might be a little difficult to think of yourself as unable to carry out simple tasks that you do every day but having a Lasting Power of Attorney (LPA) in place allows you to appoint someone you trust to make decisions for you when you are no longer able to.

First LPA is The Property & Financial Affairs LPA which extends to decisions regarding your property finances such as paying bills, buying and selling property in your name, running any businesses and making any payments for any health care.

Once this document has been registered with The Office of the Public Guardian (OPG) it will be effective immediately with your permission.

The second LPA is The Health & Welfare. This will allow your attorney to make decisions about your personal welfare i.e where you will live, how you are cared for and what health care you will receive. This particular document can only be used when you are unable to make your own decisions. Unfortunately, if you do not have any LPAs in place you would need to go through a lengthy and very expensive process in the Court of Protection to legally grant anyone the right to make choices on your behalf. It is another added stress and complication in a difficult time.

For more information speak to one of our expert advisers.

Nathan's incredible journey

By James Richings

IT'S fair to say musician Nathan Bell has lived an incredible life.

He is an award-winning American musician who has travelled all over the world and is lucky enough to have a very loyal fan base.

Until now he has never performed in the UK but that's about to change as part of his world tour will bring him to The Forge on Friday, February 10.

The trek around Britain comes after the release of his sixth studio album, Don't Do This for Love, I Do This for Love – and he hopes he can make a lasting impression on his new audience.

"The album is a collection of songs about working and making it work as a working person in America, inspired by the writings of Studs Terkel," Nathan told the Observer.

"I had wanted to make this album since my mid-20s and it made a perfect final chapter in the trilogy I started with two of my other albums, Black Crow Blue and Blood Like a River."

"I'd like to think that the audience will see a show filled with songs about living life the best you can, being hopeful and honest."

"Also, they'll see a guy who sings and plays the acoustic guitar damn well."

Originally from Boston, Nathan is much more than just a performer - he's a writer and guitar teacher in his native country.

However, despite having such a strong musical talent, Nathan gave up music and had no intention in returning.

After 15 years, the singer got involved in music again, and he hopes he can continue from where he left off - entertaining fans all over the world.

"I left because I had lost the will to live, musically speaking," he said.

"I knew in my heart that I had nothing I needed, nor wanted, to say, musically and lyrically."

"After many years of not playing a note, I came back to the business accidentally after a disastrous guest spot at a friend's show."

"I have been trying to live down that two song set ever since!"

"But I have found my voice in other's voices and my life as a man with a family and that is worth singing about."

He added: "Lately I've been writing for Acoustic Guitar Magazine and just started teaching guitar again."

"Hopefully, teaching guitar will allow me to remain a professional musician."

"It's difficult to make a living as a musician these days, but I am fortunate in that I can always go back to my life as a runway model."

The gig starts at 8pm.

You'll get hooked on Veridian

By James Richings

THE last 17 months have been incredible for Veridian.

In that time the six-piece rock band from Reading formed, recorded four singles, and have gained nearly 3,000 fans on their Facebook page.

The future looks bright for the group.

And after their incredibly successful debut gig in their home town last March, the band hope it will be a case of 'more of the same' when they arrive at The Sanctuary in Basingstoke this evening, Thursday, February 2.

"We have performed at Sanctuary in Basingstoke before alongside the guys in Empire, who are an awesome band," guitarist Joe Sellers told the Observer.

"It's a great intimate venue and it's good to see a small town keeping the music scene alive, so we can definitely expect the crowd to be lively."

"Also, to get back on the road was very exciting for us."

"We visited some places we had been to before and some new ones. Just to have people singing our lyrics back to us was an incredible feeling."

Made up of lead singer Simon Jackman, guitarists Rob Everett and Joe Sellers, bassist Jonny Slevin, Zak Watson on the drums and keyboardist James Marshall Stack (aka Stack), the group met when playing in different bands.

They would regularly meet at various gigs across the Reading area before leaving their respected groups to form their own band in September 2015, where they began to rehearse tunes that Simon and Robbie had written.

Coverage from the likes of the BBC,

Scuzz, Punkastic and Kerrang Radio have helped put the band firmly on the music map, as they embark on a small tour across the UK with fellow punk/rock group Evarose.

But despite the recent fame, Joe insists the band are keeping their head down and improving their craft.

"We're just taking everything one step at a time and we're not getting too ahead of our ourselves," he said.

"But I do believe that our songs have the catchiest hooks that will get stuck in people's heads."

"They'll go away and listen to our music and share it."

Tickets cost £15 and the gig starts at 7pm.

Wannabe diva on the big screen

FILM: Last year's comedy drama movie Florence Foster Jenkins will be screened at Phoenix Theatre and Arts Centre on Tuesday, February 7.

The film, which stars Meryl Streep, Hugh Grant and Simon Helberg, tells of an heiress in New York who owns a music club and lives for music, and aspires to be an opera singer.

It starts at 2.30pm and tickets cost £5.50.

Passing on messages of love at show

THEATRE: Psychic Sally will be at The Anvil on Wednesday, February 8.

The TV personality, medium and author Sally Morgan arrives at the Churchill Way venue as part of her Call Me Psychic UK tour, where she says she will communicate with the dead.

Sally said: "Every night when I'm on stage amazing things happen, and it's a privilege to be able to pass on messages of love and comfort to the people I share my gift with."

Tickets cost £26 and it starts at 7.45pm. It is suitable for over 16s only.

SOFTENED WATER 24/7

A TwinTec water softener will give you luxury you can see and feel

How water softeners work

Water softeners protect your home and improve the quality of water by removing mineral deposits found naturally in water.

A common symptom of hard water is the powdery residue you may see in your home, known as limescale.

About the TwinTec S3

Non electric, efficient and compact enough to fit under the kitchen sink. Guaranteed softened water for your home and family.

By utilising two cylinders, the TwinTec water softener is able to provide you with luxuriously soft water all day, every day. Each cylinder is able to work independently. When the optimal amount of water has passed through a cylinder it regenerates, meaning while one cylinder is regenerating, the other is supplying the home with soft water. Meaning you have a continuous supply of softened water.

Compact

Porsche 911 Turbo

I'm going to be honest here – I am not a big Porsche fan – but the 911 Turbo is a fantastic car. So first off - here are some stats; 3.8 litre twin turbo horizontally opposed engine that sits at the rear and produces 397 kW (540 hp) and a maximum torque of 710 Nm. 0 to 62 mph comes up in 3.0 seconds (with launch control) and on a race track you will reach a max top speed of 198 mph.

Now I have your full attention I will begin...

Design: The new 911 Turbo is one of the best looking in the range and it has this ability to appeal to a person's heart as well as their heads. I said I was not a Porsche fan – but if I am honest, I can't stop looking at it because it is such a stunning looking machine.

Yes the 911 has been around as long as the beginning of time – but then Porsche have an ability to take a design that let's face it, has had many incarnations over many years - and then refine it until it is simply staggering.

At the front you will find an all new front section which has the addition of LED headlights and 4 point daytime running lights as standard specification on all models. Then, at the rear you will find the elegantly designed three dimensional taillights and powerfully shaped twin tailpipes that you tend to find nailed to the back of NASA Rocket.

On the inside: The interior is just as dynamic as the exterior. Sitting inside a modern Porsche is just as good as it has always been. This is a driver focused car - everything is in the right place and placed perfectly at the drivers fingertips. Nothing for me in here is out of place or fussy.

As standard the Turbo also comes with plenty of equipment, including dual-zone climate, heated windscreen washer jets, electric sports seats and a media system that features integrated sat-nav, USB, Internet functions and a whole host of things to keep you happy for hours if not weeks.

Chassis: The chassis of the 911 Turbo is epic – there is no other word to describe it. The smooth high speed manoeuvrability of the 911 is the icing on your auntie's sponge cake when it comes to having a lot of fun with a car that basically has a very large engine hanging out the back. Also, being a 911 it has exceptional levels of stability and cornering agility thanks to those Porsche engineers and those large 20 inch wheels which all help in playing their part in keeping the 911 firmly planted onto the tarmac.

To sum up: Everything about the 911 Turbo is perfection and I for one am missing it terribly right now.

Price: 911 Turbo costs from £126,925

Stunning strike sees Town pinch victory at Cirencester

By Adam Flinn

A LATE winner after twice coming from behind helped Basingstoke Town pinch all three points from their game against Cirencester on Saturday.

Nana Owusu's stunning strike deep into injury time earned Basingstoke the victory over their struggling Gloucestershire opponents to reinforce their mid-table position.

They followed this up with a 1-0 win against Banbury United on Tuesday evening, to put them 15th in the Southern Premier Division table.

Saturday's match saw Cirencester have the better of the opening exchanges, and inside 10 minutes had scored as captain Matt Liddiard headed home to put the hosts 1-0 ahead.

The ball was in the back of Basingstoke's net again on the half-hour mark, but this effort was disallowed after Town keeper Alex Tokarczyk was judged to have been fouled in the build up.

Basingstoke started to get into the match after this, with Aaron Jarvis putting his header wide and Aaron Redford being denied by a late tackle, but the score remained 1-0 to the hosts at half-time.

The visitors came out reinvigorated after the break, and within 10 minutes had drawn level as Ashleigh Artwell was brought down for a penalty, fired into the top corner by Owusu.

However it didn't take Cirencester long to re-establish their lead as Henry Spalding struck an exquisite shot from 20 yards out.

Once again Basingstoke fought back, and moments later Jarvis chipped the ball over the keeper from a tight angle to make it 2-2.

Both sides had chances in the final 10 minutes as they searched for a winner, but it seemed they would have to settle for a point apiece.

But Owusu had other ideas, and faced with a free kick from 30 yards out, swerved the ball into the net off the underside of the crossbar for an unlikely victory.

In Tuesday's match, a superb free-kick by Nana Owusu six minutes into the second half gave Basingstoke a deserved three points.

Basingstoke's next match is at home to Weymouth on Saturday.

Sheikh one win away from title bout

BASINGSTOKE boxer Sami Sheikh has just one hurdle standing in his way from securing a shot at the cruiserweight title - Queensbury Boxing League rival Gavin Shephard.

The 32-year-old takes on Shephard in a final title eliminator in West Sussex on Saturday night, knowing victory will guarantee him a chance at claiming the title in April.

Sheikh, who trains at Camberley Boxing Club under the guidance of coach Charles Oliver, will be making his second appearance on the televised Queensbury Boxing League series.

Oliver said: "Sami is fully committed to going out there against Shephard and getting the victory, and he's got the power to stop him for sure."

"Sami has been with me for two years now and he's improved so much, and on Saturday I believe we are going to see the best version of him in the ring."

"One of Sami's most potent weapons is his power, and if you speak to any of his sparring partners they will tell you that when he hits you, it hurts."

"If Sami can tag Shephard with one of his big bombs then I can see this being an early night, but this is a very dangerous fight for us so we cannot overlook him."

Saturday's fight takes place at Effingham Park Hotel near Crawley.

Another top-five finish for Rose after holding lead early on NORTH Hampshire golfer Justin Rose had to settle for a share of fourth place in the Farmers Insurance Open over the weekend, despite having been leading after day two.

He eventually finished on nine under par, four shots behind eventual tournament winner Jon Rahm.

A stunning first round 65 on day one had put Rose top of the pile, in a round that included two eagles and six birdies.

It could have been even better if not for two bogeys on his front nine, and another on his penultimate hole of the afternoon.

The second was much more straightforward after Rose parred all but one of the front nine, ending on one under for the day but keeping hold of his lead.

However Saturday's one over 73 and a two under 70 on Sunday wasn't enough to keep him in contention at the top, and he slipped back to joint fourth.

Regardless it has still been a strong start to 2017 for Rose, after he came second at the Sony Open in Hawaii earlier in January.

Sport Bites

Rare defeat

RUGBY: Basingstoke RFC's four-match winning run was brought to an end as they were beaten 23-7 at home to Old Tiffians on Saturday.

Old Tiffs built up an 18-point lead in the first half before Tom Price picked up a converted try for the hosts, but it was to no avail as the visitors won.

It keeps Basingstoke fourth in the London 3 South West standings with 50 points, three behind Old Cranleighans in third.

With no game this weekend they are next in action at home to Millbrook on February 11.

Trip postponed

FOOTBALL: Basingstoke Town Ladies had their trip to face Plymouth Argyle Ladies postponed on Sunday.

Town are ninth in the South West Division 1 table, and will be hoping their game at home to St Nicholas Ladies goes ahead this Sunday.

Draw for men

HOCKEY: Basingstoke Hockey Club's men's 1sts were held to a 2-2 draw in their home match with Haslemere on Saturday.

Dean Record and Grant Rouse scored Basingstoke's goals, while Nick Cope and Graham Stopher scored for the visitors.

Elsewhere, the ladies' 1sts were also held to a draw as their match against Buckingham ended 3-3.

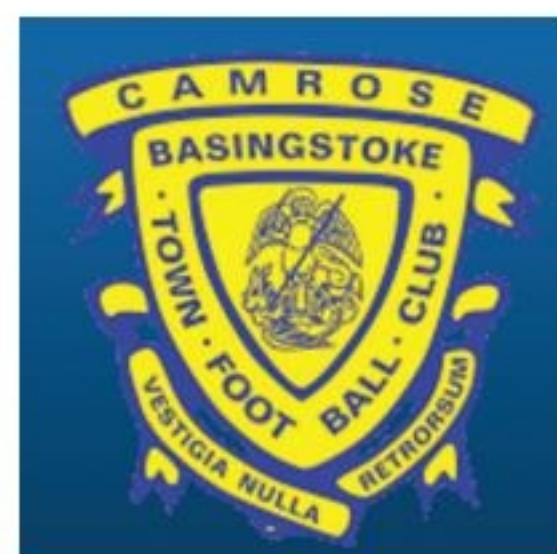

Ffion Williams, Kirsty Kent and Catriona Bausor got the goals for Basingstoke, who are third in the South Clubs' Women's Hockey League Division 2.

Another big win

FOOTBALL: Hartley Wintney enjoyed yet another big win in the Combined Counties Premier League, winning 7-2 against Bedfont and Feltham.

They have a huge 21 point lead at the top of the table, and return to league action away to Abbey Rangers on Saturday.

Mixed weekend as Bison win and lose

By Adam Flinn

BASINGSTOKE Bison had a mixed weekend as a 6-1 thrashing of Hull Pirates on Saturday was followed up by a 4-1 defeat away at Peterborough Phantoms on Sunday.

Sunday's loss ended a six-game winning streak for the Herd, but keeps them inside the top-four of the English Ice Hockey Premier League.

Things went much better on Saturday, even though it took Bison until almost the end of the first period to score their first goal, despite numerous chances beforehand.

Ciaran Long fired home the opener on 19:36 past keeper Vlastimil Lakosil, whose outstanding saves up until then had kept the Pirates in the match.

Bison picked up where they left off in the second period and the second goal quickly followed, this time from Tomas Karpov, before he netted another one six minutes later.

Going into the third period Hull were able to pull one back through Andrej Themar.

However it would be nothing more than a consolation effort, as two from Rene Jarolin and another from Long in the closing six minutes cemented Bison's victory.

But there was disappointment 24 hours later as Bison couldn't replicate their scoring form in Peterborough.

The first period was goalless, before the Phantoms built up a two-goal lead before the half-hour mark, with both coming from Ales Padelek.

Long pulled back a goal for Bison on 32:08 as the visitors tried to get themselves back into the match.

But within six minutes Tom Norton had scored the Phantoms' third on the powerplay, for a 3-1 lead going into the final 20 minutes.

And the hosts confirmed their win in the final period, with Edgars Bebris getting the Phantom's fourth with a penalty shot on 52:33.

Head coach Doug Sheppard said: "I think we played a solid weekend across the two games. We had two tough games this weekend and I think we may have run out of gas a little by the end.

"That's no reflection on the team as the guys that did line up worked hard all weekend.

"We had a good run but now we need to look forward and get on another good run starting next weekend when Telford are in town."

They are back in action this weekend, at home to league leaders Telford Tigers on Saturday.
